NYEPI AT ALILA MANGGIS

WELCOME TO ALILA MANGGIS

In Bali, Nyepi marks the beginning of the Saka New Year, a sacred day dedicated to stillness and renewal. Rooted in the practice of Catur Brata Penyepian, this profound tradition invites the island into 24 hours of complete silence, a moment for deep reflection and spiritual harmony.

At Alila Manggis, we embrace this time-honored ritual in its purest form. The day is observed with four guiding principles:

- Amati Geni – A pause from fire and artificial light, allowing the night sky to shine in its natural brilliance.
- Amati Karya – A retreat from daily tasks, offering space for rest and reflection.
- Amati Lelungan – A stillness in movement, where the world outside slows to a peaceful halt.
- Amati Lelanguan – A quieting of distractions, inviting mindfulness and presence.

As the island surrenders to silence, Alila Manggis becomes a sanctuary for renewal. Gather at Warung Alila, where tradition is honored through the art of offering-making and shared moments of quiet contemplation. Begin the day with sunrise yoga, let children experience the simple joy of fish feeding, and savor a thoughtfully curated Nyepi menu, celebrating the purity of locally sourced ingredients.

As dusk falls, the absence of artificial light reveals a breathtaking expanse of stars, a rare and humbling sight. Here, by the ocean's edge, Nyepi is not simply observed—it is felt.

We invite you to experience the beauty of silence, the depth of tradition, and the renewal of spirit at Alila Manggis.
